Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1954, dedicate our annual to the memory of Laura Numrich, our friend and classmate who is not here to graduate with us.

Her friendly smile, her helpful ways, her eager and willing participation, her pep and enthusiasm, her many talents and her personality are what we shall remember.

Liking everyone she knew and being liked by everyone who knew her, she accomplished many things for her class and for the high school. She will always remain in the hearts of her classmates as one who never asked for much but was always willing to do her share.

The Principal's Message

WHEN THE ROAD IS ROUGH

In a recent conversation with one of our senior boys, he remarked, "I get my lessons when I like the work. I am certain that I make an excellent record in the courses which I enjoy and which mean something to me. But," he continued, "I don't spend much time on books which are uninteresting or on lessons which are boring. Life is too short to be wasted on anything you don't enjoy."

This young fellow is partly right, but he is partly in error. It is a fact, of course, that one should find interesting work. It is a tragedy for a person to spend his life in activity which he does not enjoy. Many people do that, but it is a thing to be avoided so far as possible. One should try to find a vocation he will like.

The fact remains, however, that there is no work in the world which is just one sweet song. You will never find a job, in school or out, which is agreeable in all its phases and every hour of the day. Whether you are a student of history, mathematics, music, law, or medicine, you will have to do unpleasant things. Each week one is confronted with the necessity of doing hard work which is not enjoyed. These hours are exceptions, but they are there and cannot be escaped.

If you are so soft of fiber that you turn aside whenever you reach anything which is difficult, you will never get very far, either as a student or anywhere else. Enjoy your work by all means, but do not lie down on the job whenever you come to something which is difficult. Get the habit of mastering your work. The world wants men and women who are equipped to move forward over the rough roads as well as the smooth.

'Tis easy enough to be pleasant
When life flows along like a song,
But the man worth while is the man who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong.

Class History

On September 5, 1950, 55 "Greenies," with knees shaking, entered the halls of Eagle River High school. We elected the following class officers: President, Colyn Carter; Vice-President, Beverly Kott; Secretary-Treasurer, Pat Gough. We chose Edwin Burmeister and Cookie Teufert as the Freshmen delegates to the Student Council. On September 29, we were accepted as full-fledged high school students, after being initiated. Donna Dodge was our Homecoming Queen candidate. Under the guidance of Mr. Freymiller, our class advisor, we had a very successful year.

On September 4, 1951, 59 experienced Sophomores returned to our high school with the sole purpose of calling someone else green, in their minds. We elected as our class officers, Jack Thomas, President, Bob Casey, Vice-President, and Ann Strodthoff, Secretary-Treasurer. Sandra Bloom and Willie Weber represented our class on the Student Council. Homecoming Queen candidate from our class was Susan Hoecker. Our class advisor was once again Mr. Freymiller.

On September 1, 1952, 61 Juniors—at last upper classmen—resumed their studies at our mighty high school. Under the guidance of Miss Pease and Mr. Hunt, our class advisors, we elected the following officers: President, Mike Bradford; Vice-President, Billy Payne; Secretary, Cookie Teufert; Treasurer, Susan Hoecker. Jack Thomas and Helene Johnson were chosen to represent us on the Student Council. Helene Johnson was our Homecoming Queen Candidate. We had a very successful Prom, with the theme being "Stairway to the Stars." Prom King, Mike Bradford, chose Helene Johnson as his queen. Our class play, "Sing For Your Supper," was equally successful.

On September 8, 1953, 56 almighty Seniors came back for their last year at Eagle River High. Our class advisor, Miss Austin, helped us much in preparing for our graduation, and we all are grateful to her. Our class officers were: President, Billy Payne; Vice-President, Dave Seyfert; Secretary, Gael Knauer; Treasurer, Cookie Teufert; with Carol Wolter and Harry Schmidt representing us on the Student Council. Peggy Lindberg was our Homecoming Queen candidate. Our play, "Hobgoblin House," was very successful. On May 28, 1954, we left good old E.R.H.S. and went out in the world to use the knowledge we gained from it.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1954 having made the most brilliant record in the history of the Eagle River High School, and accomplishing wonders in the face of colossal handicaps, having absolute control of our senses, and sound in body and mind do hereby publish our last will and testament. To-wit:

To our beloved faculty we wish to extend our deep appreciation for the kindness and thoughtfulness they have given us during these past four years in assisting us to further our education.

We wish to bequeath the following personal possessions to you, the undergrads:

CLASS PROPHECY

Home, at last! From a beautiful trip abroad, GAEL KNAUER, a fashion designer, and I, ANN OTTERPOHL, an interior decorator, have just arrived in the United States from a business and pleasure trip to Paris, France. We decided to stay in New York City for a couple of days before returning to complete the work on our projects that we have been studying while in France. As we were slowly making our way up Broadway, we noticed one theater in particular, the thing that caught our eye was a large picture of—THOR HANSON, the famous Scandinavian tenor! Not only is he a world famous singer, but one of our own classmates from E.R.H.S. Well, you can imagine our suprise when we bumped into SANDY BLOOM. She told us she was touring the country with the Guiseppe Opera Co. as "Carmen." She immediately invited us to the Waldorf for lunch and you just can't imagine who owns it now—GORDON HJORT, of all people. Gordie greeted us very cordially and said he had a wonderful surprise for us. BOB JOHNSON and DALE HILL were staying at the hotel with their orchestra enroute to France. GAIL EASTMAN is a well known Hatcheck Girl at Gordon's club. Well, about this time, we decided it would be wonderful to have a reunion right there in Gordie's hotel. Sandy said she would get hold of the rest of the alums and we would plan the reunion for that night. As we were planning the banquet, someone noticed the "Beulah" show on the television set. We looked, and we looked again and sure enough it was CATHERINE BECRAFT. As we watched her, it brought back nostalgic memories of our Senior Class Play in Eagle River back in '54. Then the program was over, and another familiar face materialized. Why, of course, it was Reverend LORY DERRICK, head of the First Presbyterian church, with his coast to coast television program "Let's Live." His speaking voice held us spellbound for many moments, but we tore ourselves away long enough to get ready for the reunion. As the hands of the clock slowly approached the awaited hour, we grew more and more anxious at the thoughts of seeing our old friends. The dining room was magnificently decorated with red and blue and masses of gardenias arranged by VIRGINIA BYINGTON and helper BOB CASEY of the floral shop. On one of the walls was a life-size picture of the football squad from back in '54. Seems to us, we had a championship team that year, too. On another was a huge stairway curving upwards to a great cloud sprinkled with stars—Remember now—that was our Junior prom theme. The guests began to arrive, and we greeted them. We learned what each of them has been doing in the past ten years. To start off, HELENE JOHNSON—remember—her father used to be the coach at ERHS—just returned from Spain—she has been doing exceptional work as a foreign correspondent. Next comes FRANCIS CARLSON and RICHARD INBERG, "the Great White Hunters," they are leaving for the wilds of deep dark Africa in another week in search of the Kie Kie Bird. ELIZABETH HOECKER, known to us as Sue, is a famous ballerina, appearing in "Band Cart." WAYNE HESSEN walked in with a beautiful blonde —by the way, she's his wife, and doesn't mind a bit that her husband runs a modeling agency. ERIC and DAVE—members of the HEDBERG clan arrived, and told us that Eric is Police Commissioner and he is very rough on teenage drivers, and cousin Dave is the head of the CIO and AFL. Next was our old friend MORGAN HAYNER, who looked very distinguished. We found out that Morgan is the President of Schenley's, Inc. EUGENE OLSON, HARRY SCHMIDT, and ROGER STOECKMAN are making their appearance as they are on their way to climb Mt. Everest—"to the top of the world." Guess what? CHARLES QUINN is the guest soloist at Metropolitan Opera, singing in the purest of all bass voices. Oh, Charlie—The world's most famous beautician just walked through the door, no other than our own DIXIE RICHMOND, GLENN STRUCK, the President of the Hardware association in the northern part of Wisconsin, who is attending the National Builders Week in N. Y., was delighted to attend our class reunion. JACK THOMAS, DON PLUDE, and NEIL RAND are to play an exhibition hockey game at the stadium. MARGARET SHEWMAKE and MARJORIE OLSON just docked in N. Y. from a cruise around the world. BERNIE FREUDENTHAL, who is now exhibiting some of his masterpieces in the Art Gallery, now made his appearance at the reunion. Appearing at the party, the Professor—DOUG DEAN—who is now teaching chemistry at the University of Wisconsin—is checking on material for his new book, "New Experiments." ROGER GODECK, an author on the Best Seller list, who has just turned out a new book, "The Wilds of Africa," enjoyed himself at the party. Vassar's new Dean of Women—PATRICIA GOUGH is coming through the doorway with our hostess CAROL WOLTER, who is now living in N. Y. BILL DOTSON, the chief chef on our boat, "USS America," also appeared at the dinner. Here come two of our distinguished classmates COLYN CARTER, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and MICHAEL BRADFORD, the chief of electricians in the State of Wisconsin, who have been vacationing together in N. Y., and another vacationer is PEGGY LINDBERG, who is a noted nurse in the Children's Ward in Madison General hospital. Our happy-go-lucky BILL PAYNE has been enjoying a vacation and soon will return to his market in Eagle River, Wis., and he also brought us a Vilas County newspaper with headlines and reports on the following classmates: THOMAS SENSIBA is taking over "King's Gateway" and has employed FORREST SHEWMAKE as the headwaiter. YVONNE ROSS, LEAH FLYNN, and SHIRLEY HEIN are going to appear on TV as guest stars on "What's My Line." CAROL SPAETH and JOYCE BRADLEY have been employed as teachers at ERHS. Carol is the new history teacher and Joyce is the physical education teacher. JEAN CINKO was employed a few years back as home economics teacher at ERHS. CHARLES PACE is taking over his father's practice as a doctor. At last, our honeymooner has arrived home—DAVID SEYFERT—home from Hawaii. The other items reveal the happy marriages of EVA VUGRINEC, CORA DE WITT, and LORRAINE (Cookie) TEUFERT. Looking up from the paper, who should be coming through the doorway but WILLIE WEBER, now appearing as a five-star General in the Armed Forces of Uncle Sam.

The people watching their high school band marching down the street at the head of a parade probably think of the fun the boys and girls must be having and the thrill of leadership they must be feeling. They don't stop to think that the display took a lot of work on the part of the instrument carriers and their director.

Besides leading parades, they work constantly to prepare for an annual Christmas concert and an annual spring concert which are presented jointly with the chorus. The band is always present at home football and basketball games. It also takes part in the District Music contest.

This year's band membership was quite small because of the loss of fifteen seniors the year before. This loss was, in part, made up for by grade school band members. There always seems to be a shortage of players, and we urge others to join. Practice is necessary, of course, but nothing is achieved without practice or work.

Mr. Anderson, the director, patiently works with each member whenever possible and strives diligently to develop a good sounding organization. He will be greatly missed by all the graduates with whom he worked.

CHORUS

Row 5: M. Ericson, C. Johnson, J. Osterberg, M. Trollan, C. Anderson, D. Kleppe, H. Johnson, E. Case, N. Kleppe, N. Barich, L. Teufert, C. Plude, C. Croker, T. Stein, D. Griffin, D. Behn. Row 4: K. Williams, S. Adams, S. Hoecker, C. Wolter, R. LaCrosse, V. Byington, J. Nelson, J. Bourne, C. Becraft, M. Olson, J. Johnson, J. Edmonds, J. Dreger, P. Zellner, J. Sowa, S. Guerin, M. Morien. Row 3: Mr. Anderson (Director), H. Kunard, M. Garbisch, P. Reed, D. Olson, P. Ramels, M. Rumzis, E. Freudenthal, A. Otterpohl, P. Lindberg, M. Shewmake, E. Vugrinec, B. Morrison, L. Weber, S. Meyers, C. Carter, J. Thomas, C. Quinn, M. Case, R. Anderson.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Anderson, the mixed chorus, which had its start six years ago, completed another successful year.

The group was not very large at the beginning, but it continued to grow until it reached its present size of sixty-five members.

Working diligently under the former directors and under the direction of Mr. Anderson, the chorus won first place in the District Music contest every year since its formation. We all hope this record will be continued.

Just before Christmas, the chorus could be heard singing its heart out in the preparation of the annual Christmas concert. This was repeated again in the spring before the presentation of the annual spring concert. In the past two years, the formal dress of the chorus members added a beautiful array of color.

Being one of the most popular extra-curricular activities in school, it attracted many girls and boys. The chorus, however, lacked tenors and hopes to gain more boys in the years to come.

I'm sure the graduates will miss the other members, the fun, the excitement before a concert or contest and the satisfaction of a job well done. But most of all, they will miss their pleasant and patient director, Mr. Anderson.

LATIN CLUB

Row 3: T. Meyers, B. Gensler, R. Frykholm, C. Ross, M. Rumzis, K. Garnich, G. Pearson, J. Goldsworthy. Row 2: S. Hoecker, G. Knauer, E. Case, M. Morien, C. Wolter, H. Johnson, P. Gough, J. Bourne, M. Thomas. Row 1: S. Champeau, P. Nelson, D. Griffin, J. Thomas, T. Stein, Mrs. Hanke (Advisor).

In 1951, the second year Latin class presented a Constitution for the formation of a club composed of all current Latin students and alumni. With the enthusiasm and guidance of our Magistra, Mrs. Hanke, Laeti Latini was born—the purposes being to make Latin more interesting and popular, and advertise Latin, and to increase our knowledge of the ancient culture upon which our nation has been founded. The charter members of the club were given JCL pins, and the club became a member of the Junior Classical League. Bud Schlack, our first Imperator, and his officers set up the practice of initiating the first year students and of serving an annual banquet in true Roman style.

Laeti Latini has been very active in the past three years; they have sponsored a full-length movie each year, dances, candy sales, and of course, the sale of those red and blue beanies. Laeti Latini has always had a large and enthusiastic membership, with any of the members ready to do his share when called upon.

The club meets once a month, with every other meeting offering a social hour in addition to a program. The current officers are: Imperator, Jack Thomas; Lictor, Judy Goldsworthy; Scriba, Dyann Griffin; and Quaestor, Therese Stein. The annual banquet is always the high spot of each year. A chairman, chosen annually by the Imperator and the Magistra, supervises and plans the "Cena Romana." The members dress in authentic Roman costumes while the first year students act as slaves, and serve the banquet.

Laeti Latini is educational, beneficial and fun. I know that the Senior membors will say "Valete, Amici," with sadness.

The Spanish Club, Espanoles Valerosos, meets every third Thursday for the purpose of acquainting its members with the Spanish speaking countries. Any student who wishes to know about the customs of these countries is eligible for membership.

Slides and special talks have been presented at the meetings and Spanish games have been played. The club members were guests of the Minocqua Spanish club and also served as hosts to the Minocqua club. These meetings have been valuable in gaining a better understanding of our neighboring countries and of what other similar Spanish Clubs are doing.

Hi Times has become an established feature of our school, now on its thirtieth year of publication. The members of the staff are students chosen from each grade. Our advisor for the past seven years has been Mr. Kenneth Check. The News-Review publishers have allotted the Hi Times a portion of their weekly paper for our convenience.

This publication carries the activities of the various student organizations. Every student reads to see his or her name in print in the school paper. A dash of humor adds variety and interest to the reading.

Hi Times serves as a medium between the parents and the student body.

We hope Hi Times will continue to bring news of school activities in the years to come.

TIME: Early Spring

PLACE: Near the Ozark foot-hills

This was a play that made your flesh creep,your hair stand on end, and sent shivers up and down your spine, but still it rewarded you with a hearty laugh.

The play is about a Miss Priscilla Carter and her two nieces. Miss Carter is peeved at her two nieces, Marian Carter and Jill Carter, because they have fallen in love with two boys she regards as "silly young nincompoops."

Miss Priscilla purchases an old house known as the Hobgoblin House, where she and her two nieces will stay for six months. This is all done by Miss Priscilla in order to keep her nieces away from their lovers.

The fun began when Miss Priscilla and her two nieces moved in the old Hobgoblin House. The first evening there was filled with mysterious happenings. Bluebeard Bronson, an escaped maniac and a murderer, returns to the Hobgoblin House which was his former house. The maniac rages throughout the house horrifying everyone, causing a great excitement in the audience. Shrill screams, thunder and lightning, a far off funeral sounding bell, and a blood-curdling wail from the fireplace, were many of the events which made it a long remembered evening. When things were at their height, the lovers, Jack Loring and Frank Harlow, came just in time to rescue the family from a desperate band of crooks. Not until then does Miss Carter relent.

The other characters in the play include, Susan Parkins, the "Henglish 'ouskeeper," Henry Goober and Delilah Worts, the two most comical darkies you ever saw. There is the mysterious old Bluebeard of the Hobgoblin House, who is Darius Krupp, Bill Wilkins, Bluebeard's keeper, and "The Headless Phantom."

The play was a great success and was remarked as, "the best ever."

"The Awkward Pause"

One of the most hectic stages in a girl's life is that heart-rending time when she finds herself too old to do what she used to do, but too young to do what she wants to do. That is exactly what is staring Betty Lou Maxwell square in the face. Her sister, Connie, goes out with fellows all the time, and her brother is always playing and running his legs off, but Betty Lou only stays at home. No fun, no fellows, no nothin'! But Bernadine, her best friend, comes up with an idea to stop all ideas. If Betty Lou could be kidnapped, she could have everything her own way. So they put their heads together and wrote a ransom note. Sticking it to the wall with an icepick, Bernadine sneaks Betty Lou over to her house. Well, exactly according to plans, Mama and Papa are frantic and, also according to plans they say if Betty Lou was only back, they would be so lenient. But, this wasn't according to plans, Elmer and Muggsy, a couple of none-too-bright would be robbers came rummaging through the house, looking for the ransom money. They spot Betty Lou. Bernadine is frantic and tells Mama and Papa Maxwell about the robbers, but they won't believe her because they have just found out that the girls have made the whole thing up. Little brother, Wilmer, really gets kidnapped and everything is thrown into a turmoil. But everything turns out all right, and life in the Maxwell home settles down to normal.

Standing: J. Griffin, J. Dussault, G. Gira, G. Dean, T. Dean, P. Lindberg, P. Reed, J. DeWitt, M. Garbisch, K. Williams. Sitting: H. Kunard, J. Bourne, R. LaCrosse, D. Richmond, M. Morien, E. Priebe, D. Behn, C. Johnson, M. Olson.

Another of the extra-curricular activities of ERHS is forensics. Students take part in serious and humorous declamations, four minute speeches, orations, and extemporaneous reading and speaking. Several speakers are not in the picture as they were undecided as to whether or not they should take it at the time the picture was taken.

The local contest was held on March 5. The winners in this contest represented Eagle High at Three Lakes, March 12, in the League Contest. Victors in this contest went on to the District Contest at Clintonville, March 27. Eagle River champions then went on to compete in the State Contest at Madison, April 10.

These students all agree with their teachers and advisors that forensics is truly beneficial to them as it helps them in meeting the public and in speaking.

The participants of these contests are grateful to Mr. Kracht, Miss Austin, Mrs. Hanke, Mr. Freymiller and Mr. Hunt for the help they unselfishly gave them.

The Eagle River "Eagles" are champions this year, to climax an undefeated season in conference games. Losing only to Country Day the first game of the season they swamped all other opponents. The seemingly inexperienced team, after losing so many lettermen through graduation, came through with almost a sensational effort. Many compared this team with the best in E. R. H. S. history.

The Eagles possessed a quick, precision-like backfield with Mike Bradford at quarterback, Roger Godeck and Tom Gaffney at halfback, and Colyn Carter at fullback. Stalwarts in the line were Dave Seyfert, Wayne Synstad and Bill Wolter at guard and tackle; Jack Thomas at center; and Don Plude and Bill Payne at ends.

With Godeck and Bradford blocking, Gaffney and Carter became high scorers for the team and conference.

Jack Thomas and Mike Bradford were chosen co-captains for the year and Colyn Carter was chosen most valuable player.

FIRST FIVE—30, D. Hill; 42, C. Carter; 35, R. Lilly; 44, R. Coogan; 32, B. Payne.

BASKETBALL REVIEW—The 1953-54 basketball season consisted of ten games with the "Eagles" coming out on the long end of only two of them. With a little luck, though, they could have broken even for the season. The "Eagles" showed a great fighting spirit all season long, usually staying close during the first half but the second half seemed to be their downfall. They defeated Three Lakes and Crandon, but lost three close decisions, one each to Phelps, Crandon and Three Lakes.

The high scorer was Colyn Carter with 115 points, followed by Billy Payne with 93 and Dick Lilly with 81.

The "B" team showed great promise during the year winning six of ten games. They should help the "A" squad a lot next year.

SECOND FIVE—43, Tom Sensiba; 34, David Gorski; 45, Tom Dean; 33, Duane Olson; 40, Wayne Synstad.
